

Crawford UK sign up Evans Easyspace with a National Contract

Since its formation in 2000 Evans Easyspace has become established as the UK's leading provider of quality offices and workshops, tailor made to suit small and medium sized enterprises (SME's).

Evans Easyspace spent some time searching for a national supplier that could provide reliable installation and ongoing maintenance of doors and docking systems for their purpose built Business Centres. They were keen to work with a company that was able to take care of major clients on a national basis as nine new build Evans Business Centres are to be completed in 2008.

Crawford UK Limited is one of the leading suppliers of industrial doors and docking systems and this year celebrates 40 years of operating within the UK. Crawford UK recommended the Crawford 542 overhead sectional door as its design is optimal for customers who need robust, well insulated and space saving doors. A high quality, 42mm thick micro ribbed insulated sandwich panel provides good insulation values with corrosion protection. With a number of operational options the Crawford 542 overhead sectional door meets all criteria and will be supplied on a national basis to all new build Evans Business Centres.

The supply and installation of the product was only part of the key requirement as Evans Easyspace also needed a reliable and efficient after sales service providing both repair and preventative maintenance on an ongoing basis. An extended warranty and Crawford UK's Service Keys Agreement has been put in place with a 24 hour call out service, all of which offer peace of mind should something go wrong. One contact number is required to arrange service or repair for all products on-site.

As Operations Director, Ian Frostwick is responsible for all Evans Business Centres. He comments on the partnership with Crawford UK

“ Evans Easyspace is delighted to announce Crawford UK as its preferred door supplier for all new Evans Business Centres. With 50 Evans Business Centres currently open across the UK, the maintenance service offered by Crawford UK provides an essential part of this agreement.”
